Dear Cherry

New footpath: Berkshire College of Agriculture to Temple Golf Club

I am writing to advise you that the Borough Council and the Berkshire College of Agriculture (BCA) will shortly be creating a new permitted footpath around the northern edge of the College's land, to connect the existing public footpath at High Wood to the existing public footpath that crosses Temple golf course.

As part of this project, a short section of roadside footpath is to be constructed within the verge of Henley Road, opposite the Golf Club entrance, and improvements will be made to traffic signage and road markings on Henley Road at the crossing point.

I am attaching for your information a map showing the new permitted footpath and a drawing showing the proposed details of the roadside footpath and traffic signage improvements.

The works to construct the new roadside footpath and install the traffic signs and road markings are scheduled for early October: these works will be undertaken outside peak hours and will involve the use of temporary traffic lights.

If you have any comments on this project or would like any further information please contact me.

Yours sincerely
